The Practise of English Language Teaching

Teaching Report for Shaun January/ February 2010

Teaching Skills

Shaun has used a variety of teaching techniques to good effect and his classroom management has progressed and developed. He speaks excellent English and can adjust his tone and volume to suit the needs in the classroom. This, with his pleasant manner, ensures that his students benefit from his lessons.

Lesson Preparation

Shaun has innovative ideas and uses them in a variety of exercises and activities to create a good level of interest and enthusiasm in the classroom.

Critical Awareness

It is important to recognise our weak points in the classroom and to continually work on self-improvement. Shaun accepts constructive criticism and is analytically aware of his strengths and weaknesses. His lesson planning and teaching both improved during the course and he is sure to develop his teaching skills further as he gains experience.

Personality and Rapport

Shaun has a relaxed and easy-going manner which the students respond most positively to. He has established a good working relationship with his peers and worked effectively in group activities. He was a reliable and responsible teacher at all times.

This teaching report has been compiled using teacher, student and our own observations.
